

From Knoxville to Anywhere: Your Law Degree Your Way

At Lincoln Memorial University Duncan School of Law (LMU Law), we are committed to producing lawyers who want to change their world for the better. We are proud to take a different approach to training law students by offering an innovative Part-Time Hybrid Program that will expand access and allow you to earn your JD while working. Discover why LMU Law is the ideal place for working professionals to earn their law degree.

No Limits

We understand that pursuing a Juris Doctor (JD) degree while managing life and job responsibilities will be quite challenging. However, some people cannot give up their employment and responsibilities to move to a new city to pursue their dreams. That is why for over a decade LMU Law has taken a different path in providing innovative approaches to helping students achieve their goals of becoming licensed attorneys.

Our new Part-Time Hybrid Program requires limited (but required) in-person instruction with the flexibility to move through the curriculum at a part-time pace. By the end, the program will prepare you to meet the demands of an increasingly complex legal system.

Personalized Approach to Learning

When choosing a law program, being able to easily interact with faculty is incredibly beneficial to your educational success. When you become an LMU Law student, you join a caring, close-knit community that is committed to helping you pursue a rewarding legal education and career. Our Part-Time Hybrid JD Program offers smaller course sections than our in-person courses to amplify our student-centered approach to learning and provides unparalleled access to your professors. In addition, our faculty take immense pride in knowing every student by name, and our open-door policy means you will not wait long to ask a question. Lastly, LMU Law has maintained a robust and integrated bar success program that begins during law school and continues after graduation.

Experiential Learning Opportunities

As you pursue your legal education, gaining hands-on learning experiences both in and outside the classroom are ideal to produce practice-ready graduates who are ready to excel in their profession. LMU Law's robust externship program allows you to earn course credit for doing fieldwork in your third and fourth years. In addition, our faculty will help in finding and matching you with sites that enrich and enhance your interests and career ambitions (including opportunities in your own locality). Field placements include positions in a variety of judicial settings, prosecutorial and public defender offices around the region, legal-services organizations, government agencies, and private law firms of all sizes and practice areas.

Support from the Knoxville Community

Where you choose to pursue your law degree matters. LMU Law provides a strong support system to help you achieve your educational and career goals. While our Part-Time Hybrid JD Program is nearly two-thirds online, you will still benefit from our supportive Knoxville community. Knoxville is home to plenty of agencies offering public service opportunities, including Legal Aid of East Tennessee and Catholic Charities of East Tennessee. Plus, Knoxville is a thriving city full of exciting things to do when you are here.

Career Outcomes

Once you have earned your law degree, we know how important it is for you to achieve your goal of landing your dream career. Through LMU Law's Office of Career Services, we are committed to providing you with the services and resources you need for a lifetime of successful career management. We strive to equip you with the tools you will need to launch a successful job search and serve as an intermediary between law students and prospective employers. We also maintain ongoing employer outreach to increase employer interest and community exposure to benefit our students. In fact, LMU Law graduates have found employment in law firms, government, public interest, and business. Learn more about our employment and graduation statistics below:
